Historical edition v1.0 - revised data

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

August grew as domestic demand offset foreign markets

MAIN CONCLUSION

Total overnight stays rose only because residents added 4.5%; foreign markets ended 0.4% below August 2024.

Tourist accommodation took in 3.8 million guests and 10.7 million overnight stays, 1.2% and 1.3% above a year earlier, and Statistics Portugal credited residents with that continuity.

Total revenue reached EUR 1,011.3 million (+6.7%) and room revenue EUR 809.6 million (+5.8%), with ADR at EUR 159.2 (+4.3%) and RevPAR at EUR 116.8 (+2.6%), while net bed occupancy slipped to 66.8%, down 1.1 pp.

August therefore delivered more revenue from less use of the capacity: owners who fill the month with foreign guests had to replace volume with price.

KEY INDICATORS

Revenue up, occupancy down

GUESTS 3.8 M +1.2% YoY revised change	OVERNIGHT STAYS 10.7 M +1.3% YoY revised change	TOTAL REVENUE EUR 1,011.3 M +6.7% YoY revised change
ROOM REVENUE EUR 809.6 M +5.8% YoY revised change	REVPAR EUR 116.8 +2.6% YoY	NET BED OCCUPANCY 66.8% -1.1 pp YoY

Reading: total revenue grew 6.7% while overnight stays advanced just 1.3%. The gap came from ADR (+4.3%), not from net bed occupancy, which lost 1.1 pp.

DEMAND

All of the growth came from residents

Resident overnight stays rose 4.5% to 3.8 million, while non-resident stays came in at 6.9 million, 0.4% below the previous year. The ten largest source markets supplied 78.9% of foreign stays and the clear gains were North American, with the United States up 9.8% and Canada up 8.5%. In Europe only Germany added volume (+1.7%): Spain (-9.1%), Italy (-6.9%), the Netherlands (-5.7%), France (-4.6%), Ireland (-4.6%) and the United Kingdom (-1.2%) all came in lower.

REGIONS

Small gains almost everywhere, one region lower

Change in overnight stays by region

August 2025, year-on-year change

Statistics Portugal, Tourism Activity - Flash Estimates, August 2025.

Eight of the nine regions registered more overnight stays, none by more than 3.7%: Madeira +3.7%, Setúbal Peninsula +3.3% and Alentejo +2.9% at the top, with the Algarve and West and Tagus Valley almost flat, both at +0.5%. The Centre was the only region below the previous year, at -3.0%.

REGION IN FOCUS

Madeira led with +3.7%, but the gain was domestic: resident overnight stays increased 39.6% while non-resident stays fell 3.3%.

OPERATING PERFORMANCE

Price, not occupancy, produced the revenue

Portugal, tourist accommodation establishments.

ADR EUR 159.2 +4.3% YoY	REVPAR EUR 116.8 +2.6% YoY	NET BED OCCUPANCY 66.8% -1.1 pp YoY
NET ROOM OCCUPANCY 73.4% -1.2 pp YoY	TOTAL REVENUE EUR 1,011.3 M +6.7% YoY revised change	ROOM REVENUE EUR 809.6 M +5.8% YoY revised change

August ADR was EUR 159.2, 4.3% higher than a year earlier, and RevPAR reached EUR 116.8 (+2.6%). Net bed occupancy stood at 66.8%, down 1.1 pp, and net room occupancy at 73.4%, down 1.2 pp. With total revenue of EUR 1,011.3 million (+6.7%) and room revenue of EUR 809.6 million (+5.8%), the revenue gain is explained by price: the installed capacity was used less intensively than in August 2024.

REAL ESTATE LENS

More value per bed, on a narrower base

FACT

Total revenue +6.7% and ADR +4.3%, against overnight stays +1.3% and net bed occupancy -1.1 pp.

INTERPRETATION

Yield per bed improved because price improved, not because more guests came in. RevPAR advanced 2.6% against ADR at 4.3%: occupancy held back the conversion of price into revenue per available bed.

IMPLICATION

For an owner, the August question is how durable the price is. It is worth testing how much of the ADR holds without the foreign markets, which came in at -0.4%, and how much of the revenue rests on residents, who accounted for the whole increase in overnight stays.

OUTLOOK

Three signals to watch in September

01	Whether foreign markets return to growth after August at -0.4%.
02	Whether net bed occupancy stabilises or keeps giving way while ADR rises.
03	Spain (-9.1%) and Italy (-6.9%), the two largest drops of the month.
